Telecommunication device components

Weekly Facts & Figures.

- Bilateral trade: China became India's largest trading partner in goods in the first half of 2026, with bilateral trade reaching 91.7 billion USD.
- Import growth: China's imports from India rose 37.2% year-on-year, from 8.97 billion USD to 12.31 billion USD.
- Electronics components: Chinese imports from India under HS code 851779 increased by 651.2%, from approximately 124 million USD to 932 million USD.

What This Means.

If India can use its current expansion in basic components as a foundation for investment [...], it may gradually move into higher-value segments. Until then, India's progress will complement China-centered electronics supply chains more than it directly challenges China's technological and industrial leadership.
